CITY IN BRIEF.

Twenty-eight deaths last week.
The two-year-old son of Patrolman Kellemeyer died of lung fever yesterday.

Bishop Knickerbocker will hold a special service and communion at Grace Church, corner of St. Joseph and Pennsylvania streets, to-day.

The first of the series of clinical lectures instituted at the Indiana Asylum by Superintendent Fletcher and Dr. Walker was given yesterday afternoon.

Charles Lawson and James Bennett, accused at Greencastle for manufacturing and selling tobacco without a license, were lodged in jail here by the Federal authorities.

Theodore Banta, of Mercer County, Ky., was arrested near Lebanon yesterday by a Louisville Deputy Marshal, and returned to that city yesterday to answer a charge of counterfeiting.

Squire Pense has secured a written opinion by Judges Lamb and Hill, and with Major Gordon and John B. Egan concerning which says he is a legal Peace Justice, and that he has the right to hold his office anywhere in Center Township.

A large number of citizens left yesterday morning over the Big Four Road to attend the funeral of Hon. Schuyler Colfax, at South Bend. Among these were Governor

Porter and Gray, and Postmaster Wideman.
Two engines went in front of the train to clear the track of snow, and at Lebanon another engine was added.

THE CHURCHES.

Church, will preach this morning and evening at the usual hours.

The Fourth and Tabernacle Presbyterian Churches will unite in a gospel meeting this evening at the Tabernacle Church.

At the Meridian Street Church this morning, Rev. John Altmeyer will preach on "Modern Tendencies Toward the Unspiritualizing of Religion." Evening: "The Early Life of David."

At the Central Christian Church, Rev.
David Walk will preach this morning on "The Gospel." Evening: "The Gospel."

Rev. Oscar McColloch will preach at the Plymouth Church morning and evening.
Subjects—Morning: "Phases of Conversion."
Evening: "Gather Up the Fragments."

Rev. Aaron Thompson will preach at the Fifth Presbyterian Church this morning.
The pastor will preach in the evening.
Theme: "Weighed and Found Wanting."

At the Central Christian Church this morning, Rev. A. Marine will preach on "Modern Tendencies Toward the Unspiritualizing of Religion." Evening: "The Early Life of David."

Preferred Death to the Penitentiary.

Henry Wilkinson, colored, under arrest at the Central Station for petit larceny, late last night attempted to hang himself in his cell, using his suspenders instead of a rope.

The suspenders broke, however, and Wilkinson fell to the floor with a heavy thud, attracting the attention of some of the other prisoners, who informed Turnkey Stout of what had happened. Wilkinson said that death was preferable to a term in the penitentiary, and that was his reason for attempting to break his neck.
